

Jerry Zion presents:

Why Metrology Matters in Medical Device Quality Assurance Testing

Sponsored by: Fluke Biomedical

Wednesday, March 30, 2016, 2:00pm ET

PRESENTER: JERRY ZION, FLUKE BIOMEDICAL

A renowned veteran in the medical device industry, Jerry Zion has more than 35 years of experience working in many capacities for hospitals and various medical device manufacturers. Jerry has spent the last decade at Fluke Biomedical as marketing manager, product manager, and pioneering the global training program. Jerry is an AAMI certified biomedical equipment technician, and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering Technology from Purdue University. Jerry also obtained a Master's in Management in Science and Technology from the Oregon Graduate Institute.

WEBINAR AGENDA: Join Global Training Manager for Fluke Biomedical, Jerry Zion, as he discusses how metrology applies to medical device quality assurance testing. Jerry will also cover the concept of uncertainties and how they affect calibration adjustments. Further focus will be applied to how metrology and traceability apply to both your test instruments and the medical devices upon which you make calibration adjustments.
