Joseph Ouellette presents:
IoT Cybersecurity Is A Team Sport

Sponsored by:

Wednesday, April 29, 2020, 2:00pm ET

PRESENTER: Joseph Ouellette

Joseph Ouellette, Clinical Systems Engineer at Yale-New Haven Health.

WEBINAR AGENDA: This 60 minute webinar will Joseph Ouellette, Clinical Systems Engineer at Yale-New Haven Health. Healthcare providers continue to view operational transformation through very different lenses, and IoT cybersecurity is not an exception. Despite how IT security professionals and front line Healthcare Technology Management (HTM) professionals share many of the same security objectives, they continue to operate in relative blinds and rarely communicate, unless an emergency surfaces. This is not a sustainable approach and some of the best evidence of that is reflected in the technology gaps that persist. Join us for this webinar to hear how Yale-New Haven Health is driving cross-functional collaboration to successfully transform its cybersecurity practice. Our moderator will be Tom Finn, Director of Business Development at Medigate.

Webinar Wednesday would like to thank our sponsor Medigate!

Medigate's comprehensive and accurate device discovery capabilities combined with clinical-contextual anomaly detection enables automated, rule-based, clinically driven security policies that keep clinical networks and patients safe.
